Student Suggests Plan To Punish Hill Vandals

by Skip Andrews

The Student Senate Monday night heard Don Spector present a program designed to stop the "vandalism" committed by Hamilton students especially over party weekends. Spector proposed that the Senate deal with all cases of vandalism that the houses report.

He said the Senate would punish a student for his first offense by four weeks social probation. After a second offense, he continued, the Senate would recommend to the administration suspension for a period of time determined by the administration.

Spector added that passage of the program would be "a feather in the cap of the Senate" and also of the College.

Dean Approves Program

Discussion of the motion followed during which Spector said he had discussed the program with Dean Tolles. The Dean, he said, had assured him that the Senate would "not be infringing upon the administration" by making the program effective and that the Dean himself approved of the program.

Hal Bruck asked what constituted vandalism. Spector defined it as "the willful destruction of property." Spector said that the individual houses would bring up names before the Senate and that the Senate would punish the offenders individually.

In the middle of the discussion Dud Hawkes raised the question of whether the Senate has judicial powers. The Senate left the question unanswered. Several members agreed that the Senate does have such power, since, they argued, the Honor Court has judicial power, and the Senate is definitely an equally powerful organization.

To Recommend Penalties

Returning to Spector's proposal, other Senate members suggested that the Senate receive violators' names from the houses, discuss the extent of their misdemeanors, and recommend penalties to the faculty.

Bruck said he thought the program would cause "friction among the houses." He suggested instead that the house presidents work together to eliminate the vandalism.

Cutting short discussion on the proposal, the Senate tabled the motion until next week. In the meantime, President Art Melius suggested, the Senate members could discuss the proposal with their houses.

Committee Elected

Don Seyba presented his revised list of recommended students for the Student Curriculum Committee. Short speeches followed about each of the recommended students.

The five seniors elected were Tom Benson, John Caldwell, Alan Fuller, Pat Bremer, and John Graves. The three juniors elected were Bob Pat-

No Administrative Action Planned In Sig Cab Prank

Dean Winton Tolles said yesterday that no punitive action will be taken against a group of Hamilton students, mostly members of Sigma Phi, who participated in a taxi cab prank last Saturday night.

Although terming the incident "unfortunate," the Dean said he didn't think any administrative discipline was called for.

The cab and a limousine answered a call made by some Hamilton students last Saturday night.

Tolles said Monday that when the cars appeared at the Delta Upsilon house as requested, students began milling around the automobiles. In the ensuing action, he said, one of the drivers' hands was injured when an auto hood was slammed on it.

The Dean said that apparently some students got possession of one of the cars and drove it around the campus.

The students involved, Tolles said, have agreed to pay for expenses incurred in calling the cab and limousine and in treating the driver's injury.

Griffin Receives Year-in-France Study Scholarship

John Griffin has been awarded a scholarship by the French Government for one year's study in France, Prof. Marcel Moraud announced on Monday.

Although the scholarship is not specifically granted for use in the Hamilton Junior-Year-in-France program, Griffin plans to take advantage of the program.

The scholarship was awarded to Griffin on the basis of his academic standing in college, as well as his standing in French. Griffin, a premed student here, will study French civilization and language, in accordance with the curriculum set-up of the Junior-Year-in-France program.

Hamilton is one of six colleges in the United States to be given scholarship grants by the French Government. The award is $700, which covers a little less than one-third of the cost of the academic year.

The program, which consists of a six-week preliminary session in Biarritz followed by the academic year in Paris, will be directed by Moraud.

Honorary Society Taps 13 Freshmen At Tuesday Chapel

Tuesday after Chapel D T, the sophomore honorary society, tapped and corked 13 new members from the freshman class.

Selected were Dick Alofs, John Beebe, Chuck Colton, Jim Cornell, Don DiGiulian, Steve Downey, Dennis Howie, Bob Jordon, Bob Marshall, Tim Norbeck, Tom Perkins, Art Romans and Pete Strawbridge.

DT each year picks 13 freshmen who are outstanding athletes and campus leaders. They work in conjunction with Was Los in sponsoring campus activities such as pep rallies, all-college dances and inter-class competition.

McEwen Reports Two New Faculty Members Named

President Robert McEwen announced Tuesday the appointment of two new members to the faculty for the next academic year, beginning in September.

McEwen reported the acceptance of appointments by Edwin C. Hoyt, to be visiting assistant professor of government, and John H. Jacobson, Jr., to be an instructor in philosophy.

Hoyt, a graduate of Harvard College and the Harvard Law School, served in the legal branch of the Army during the European occupation and was later an assistant district attorney in New York.

He is now teaching international law in the Columbia Law School while finishing his doctoral thesis in international relations.

Hoyt has attended the Russian Institute at Columbia and will give a seminar course at Hamilton in Russian Government and Politics.

Jacobson, who obtained his master's degree from Yale last year, is now an assistant in instruction there while working on his doctorate.

Hoyt will replace for one year Associate Professor Channing Richardson, who has received a Ford Foundation grant for work at the University College of Rhodesia and Nyasaland in Salisbury, Central Africa. Jacobson replaces instructor Kai E. Nielson, who is joining the Amherst faculty.

Bruck Heads Honor Court; Four Representatives Chosen

The Honor Court has selected Hal Bruck as chairman of the court for next year, chairman Paul McGiffin announced Tuesday.

At the Tuesday Assembly, the student body elected Art Melius representative to the court for the class of '58. Dick Flanagan and Don Spencer were chosen from the class of '59 and Art Romans from the class of '60.

Other candidates from the class of '58 were John Driscoll, Dave McMillan, Rick Purple, Tim Smelzer and Barry Gerson. Running for the court from the class of '59 were Don Kittell, Dan Murdock, Tim Scholl, Bob Patton, Dave Merkel, John Stevens and Baldy Moore, in addition to the elected candidates.

Bruck has been selected co-captain of next year's football squad. He lettered in both football and track this season. In addition, Bruck is a member of the Athletic Council, is treasurer of DKE and is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

Art Melius, president of the Student Senate and of ELS, was secretary of the Student Council this year. Melius is an active member of the SCA, sings in the choir, plays baseball and is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

Dick Flanagan, recently tapped by Was Los, has been sophomore representative to the Honor Court and the Student Council. Flanagan was president of his freshman class and is a member of the Debate Club.

House manager of DKE, Don Spencer, is persident of his class and vice-president of the SCA. Spencer has been a member of the hockey team and Block H Club for two years.

Art Romans, a member of Psi U, served as his freshman class representative to the Honor Court. Romans has been active in Charlatans' productions this year and holds the Illinois Regional Scholarship.

GOP Chooses

Bill Tennant was elected president of the Hamilton Young Republicans Club at a meeting Wednesday evening. Other officers for next year are: Terry Hayes, vice-president; Dick Parker, secretary; Rey Reimer, treasurer.

Syrett To Speak At Charter Day; Classes Earlier

Final plans have been announced for the College's 145th birthday anniversary Class and Charter Day next Wednesday.

The first two class periods will be moved ahead 30 minutes to 8 and 9 a.m., after which the three lower classes will congregate by classes for the traditional moving-up day ceremonies in the Chapel.

Seniors, faculty and guests will be seated in the Chapel balcony for the ceremony.

Speaking at the Charter Day ceremonies will be Dr. Harold C. Syrett, professor of history at Columbia University.

In choosing Syrett the College is departing from the tradition of having Hamilton alumni deliver the address. Syrett will speak on the life of Alexander Hamilton in honor of the bicentennial birthday anniversary of the College's first trustee.

Before Syrett's address President Robert McEwen and Dean Winton Tolles will award scholarships and essay prizes to undergraduate winners.

After the address the five-man senior honorary society Pentagon will tap its 54th class.

Following the ceremonies the faculty will take on the seniors in the annual faculty-senior softball game.

Finals in the interclass softball, golf and tennis tournaments will take place at 3:30 p.m.

At 8 p.m. the four classes will compete for the Class Sing Trophy and the final eight points toward the Class Day Trophy.

Professors Johnston, Wertimer and Baldwin will judge the singing contest. Prof. Johnston will award the Class Day, Class Sing and intramural sports trophies in the Chapel following the sing.

Melius, Mead, Zucker Take Prizes In McKinney Prize Speaking Contest

Art Melius, Phil Mead and Preston Zucker won first places in the McKinney Prize Speaking Contest Monday night at Alpha Delt.

Melius' impromptu speech on the Utica Rescue Mission was a unanimous first prize decision. John Stanton, whose subject was "Life Saving in the Ocean," won second place among the Junior speakers.

In the sophomore class, Mead won with his extemporaneous speech "Lux, Veritas and Jazz," and Fred Goodrich was second with "Why the Teacher Shortage?"

The freshman speeches were memorizede xcerpts from modern drfama. Zucker'ss peechw as from O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms." Dick Blinkoff won second place with an excerpt from Ibsen's "An Enemy of the People."

Juniors Mal McClinchie and Paul Goetz spoke on "The Dutch Elm Disease' and "The FBI and Scotland Yard" respectively.

Sophomore Bruce Geer spoke on "Conscience and the Undergraduate" and Dick Hinman on "Let's Speak in a Foreign Language."

Freshman Bob Tessler's excerpt was from O'Neil's "Long Day's Journey into Night" and Dennie Howie's was from Shaw's "St. Joan."

In his winning speech Melius told of the plight of Utica's vagrants and how citizens, including Hamilton students, are giving time and money to help improve their conditions.

Stanton mentioned in his speech the problems of ocean lifeguards and their methods of rescue. McClinchie told of the danger of Dutch Elm Disease and the precautions Hamilton was taking to save its trees. Goetz compared the histories and functions of Scotland Yard and the FBI.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Harvey Cameron, Wallace Johnson, Dean Tolles and Profs. Godcharles and Weber.

Last 'Continental' To Appear Soon, Moran Announces

The final issue of the Continental will appear on May 23 or 24, Editor John Moran said Tuesday.

The magazine will include fiction by David Chute, John Roberts and Vic Talentino; non-fiction by Hurd Baruch, O. G. Hunt and Gary Tischler;a nd a vignette by Peter Phelps.

Chute has submitted chapter 3 from his novella of the Korean War based on his experience in the Marines.

Roberts' story is about a Houdini-type "Escape Artist." It was specially illustrated by Dick Stevens. "The Fight," by Talentino, deals with a conflict between two children.

Russian novels, a Russian novelist and playwright and the Pueblo Indians are subjects of non-fiction studies by Tischler, Hunt and Baruch.

Tischler has written "The Dead Souls in 19th Century Russian Novels." The article describes novels by Dostoyevsky, Tolstoy and Gogol.

Hunt has authored a portrait of Maxim Gorki, a 20th century Russian, entitled "The People Lover," and Baruch has written "The Mud People," an anthropological satire on Pueblo Indian life, as seen by an outsider.

Stevens has designed the cover and Jim Cornell has contributed several drawings.

The Student Christian Association will present "Dial M for Murder" tonight and tomorrow evening at 8 p.m., in the Chemistry Auditorium.

The film stars Grace Kelly and Ray Milland. Admission is 40¢.

Literary Society, Open to Everyone, To Meet Monday

The Hamilton Literary Society will meet Monday evening to discuss the future objectives of the group and to elect officers, Peter Rose, club president, said Tuesday.

The meeting, to be held in the Baker Memorial Room at 8:30 p.m., is open to all students, whether members before or not, Rose said.

Next year the club's program will include two off-campus lectures each semester, Rose said.

This year the club has presented such discussions as: "Growth of an Artist" by Peter Phelps, "Counterpoint in Bach" by Roger Prokop, "The Outsider" by Rose and "Childhood in Wordsworths Ode to Immortality" by John Lawrence.

The club also sponsored a seminar discussion between faculty and students on Hamilton education and a lecture by Prof. William Starnes entitled "Pervasive Russian Institutions."

The purpose of the club, Rose said, "is to get a group of men together who have ideas; and to express and share these ideas within an interested and sympathetic group."

MORE ORIGINALITY REQUESTED—

Reviewer Pans, Lauds Gaboon

by Dick Storm

When it was announced that an attempt would be made to resurrect the Hamilton humor magazine, the Royal Gaboon, we were apprehensive of the problems involved in collecting first rate college humor in so small a college.

Supporters of the project, however, argued that although most good campus wit seems to originate in large colleges or universities of a somewhat more sporty nature than Hamilton, there was no reason to suppose that we could not produce a good humor review.

Confirms Fears

The publication of the first Gaboon since 1949, although a fine experiment, seems to have confirmed our fears. It seems to this reviewer that a magazine of this sort must be original and scrupulously so.

Obviously, there can be minor exceptions to this rule, but humor must be as honest as more serious literature, if it is to demand any consideration.

In the same way, humorous writing must be carefully and competently drafted—in some senses even more carefully written than serious literature, since satire must be administered in sharp, accurate jabs, with no second try.

Perceptive humor often consists in reversing and ridiculing established practice to expose incongruous flaws—certainly a rich field at tradition-laden Hamilton.

Personalities Require Care

Personalities if dealt with at all, must be carefully and tastefully handled, because vulgarity for its own sake is never funny, although it is perfectly acceptable in making a final and devastating point.

Format should be clean and appealing; art work sure and immensely sugggestive.

Unfortunately, the new Gaboon seems to miss all these points, some more than others. First and most important, it is seldom original, and when it is not, no credit is given to the source of the article.

It was annoying to find that most of the best work in the magazine was derivative at best, lifted at worst.

Stories Borrowed

In the Charles Addams stories, for example, the undertaker story is quite familiar, while "Felicity," by far the best work in the magazine, was published as part of a longer work in the Vassar Igitur earlier this year. The other truly clever idea, the Lincoln "theme," appeared last year in the Yale Record; "How to Take Notes" has been seen in several anthologies.

Several attempts were made to turn tradition upside down, but none was carefully enough constructed to score. Both "Foreign Policy Lecture" and "The Well" were built on fine ideas, but lost out through faulty build-up to their respective high points. "Alex and I" suffered from an agonizingly trite central idea.

Pointless vulgarity reared its ugly head several times, and only added to our growing discomfort. Because of an unfortunate format, and uniformity of subject matter, the poetry was only occasionally as funny as it should have been.

The art work, and format in general, need considerable improvement, especially in cover design.

If, in future issues, the Gaboon can develop and maintain a level comparable to the flashes of genuine wit that were scattered through "Communism and You," "TV Guide," and the personals (which convulsed us), it could become a valuable addition to student publications at Hamilton.

Yes, we said "future issues" because the experiment which brought us this issue should be continued, to see if the quality of writing available can improve enough to warrant permanent establishment of the Gaboon.

This issue, although unfortunate in many ways, has enough promise to gain our support for future attempts.

Flanagan Heads Debaters; Delta Sigma Rho Elects

Officers were elected and Delta Sigma Rho selections were announced at the Debate Club's annual banquet last night.

Dick Flanagan was chosen next year's president at the banquet which was held at Hart's Hill Inn. The club also elected Rusty Herbsman as vice-president and Lynwood Sinnamon and Dave Eastham as secretaries.

Gary Tischler, president of the Hamilton chapter, announced the election of six club members to Delta Sigma Rho. The new members of the honorary forensic fraternity are: Flanagan, Herbsman, Sinnamon, Al Kempler, Jim Bromley and Bob Miller.

Tischler also said that an inter-fraternity debate trophy has been purchased. The trophy, honoring the club's advisor Prof. Willard B. Marsh, will be awarded annually to the fraternity winning a club-sponsored debate tournament.

Accuracy and Discretion —

MANY STUDENTS APPARENTLY do not understand the purpose of a newspaper.

Certainly no one is sorrier than this staff when we print inaccurate statements, as we did last week about the Neuman lecture (see Letters to the Editor). We apologize to our readers and hope that it will not happen again.

It is not our inaccuracy, however, that seems to bother the Student Senate. The Senate last Monday asked that the Spectator use more "discretion" in covering Senate meetings.

Is it "indiscreet" to publish a statement made at a public meeting of any legislative body? If the statement is neither obscene nor libelous — no. In fact, any paper that does not report fully and accurately such a public meeting does not deserve to be called a newspaper. We do not intend to gloss over events at Senate meetings merely because they may hurt some feelings.

Senate members are responsible for their actions and words at Senate meetings. We intend to report these action and words as fairly but as accurately as we can.

If this is indiscretion, we plead guilty.

Senate . . .

ton, Don Savage, and Bruce Geer. Bob Tessler and Art Skidmore were also elected as sophomore representatives.

One part of the meeting was used for Senate members to make suggestions of areas into which the Senate should look next year. Melius advised that discussion on the suggestions be held over until a later date.

Six Suggest Agenda

Six members of 20 present rendered suggestions. Caldwell suggested that lists of open and closed parties be distributed to all the houses prior to each party weekend.

Rick Hatch urged that the Senate organize a social program for the freshmen during deferred rushing.

Seybe said he hoped that two men from every house, the independents and Squires wouldw ork for the Publications Board next year. He added that the Publications Board would recommend one Senate member for the Board next week.

Seyba also suggested that the Senate evaluate the "worth and function" of the honor societies. Questioned about the eventual end of such evaluation, Seyba replied "dissolution of the societies." He said also that the Spectator editor had suggested that the Senate limit the number of offices a student can hold.

Bruck suggested that the Senate organize a freshman cheering section for the football games in the fall.

Bob Miller suggested that the Senate examine the present election method for class officers.

Melius urged that the Senate discuss fraternity-freshman relations for deferred rushing.

Rename IFC Scholarship

Among other business the Senate renamed the former IFC Scholarship the Student Senate Scholarship. Melius explained that the independents also will be donors toward the new scholarship.

Melius appointed Bruck chairman of a small committee to recommend the recipient of the Senate Scholarship. The committee consists of Paul Goetz, Rick Hatch, and Tim Scholl.

Bruck, during the meeting, asked whether or not "discussion of individuals" that he claimed appeared in last Friday's Spectator should be allowed. He added that some matters were "personal things" and, if printed, would be "an insult to the individuals" involved.

Miller said that the information was "truth and should be published." Seyba added that he saw no reason why any part of the meeting ought not be published. Other Senate members felt that discussion of individuals was not necessary.

Finally Bruck moved that "the Spectator use a little discretion in reporting the news." He added that he was not objecting to facts being printed. Miller suggested that the editor of the Spectator be informed of the motion. The moion was passed.

Melius said that the next meeting would be next Monday at 8 p.m.

HERE AND THERE

by Dave McMillan

The day after Senator McCarthy's death, a Utica radio announcer came up with this gem, "Thousands of people fled past the bier of Senator . . . I mean filed past . . . "

It is truly amazing the strange sounds one hears from the radio these days. A well-meaning master of ceremonies asked a little girl, "Are you an optimist or a pessimist?" Replied the sweet cherub, "Neither, I'm a Catholic."

Meanwhile, here at Hamilton, some diehard has arisen to defend the rights of the male sex. On a large poster announcing the SCA movie as "Grace Kelly in 'Dial M for Murder'," he has scrawled next to the Princess' name, "and Ray Milland".

Attorney General Brownell will harvest quite a crop of honorary degrees this June. Already on his list are Hamilton, Union and Farleigh Dickinson.

News Item of the Week comes from the Swarthmore Phoenix, "Beethoven wrote three symphonies; the Third, the Fifth and the Ninth." Shakespeare wrote two plays, MacBeth and King Lear?

The inimitable Utica Tangerine bravely went forth last week to announce that the new editorial staff would not be intimidated by ANYONE. They had to apologize a week later for a slight oversight. Seems they forgot to list the names of the new staff.

The Hobart Herald really outdid itself with this lead sentence in a recent editorial column; "To those who have no other source of information than the accumulation of statements and counter-statements which, due to the unflagging efforts of certain publicity-minded people, have recently flooded all avenues of information to the public, the picture presented by the colleges of the Seneca, as they near the end of this academic year, must be grim" . . . Especially "grim" to the English department after they waded through the "flooded avenues" to see the "picture presented by" . . .

In a blast at the custom of "going-steady" a recent article in McCall's characterizes those involved as follows: "Instead of enjoying youth's most precious prerogatives — venture, exploration, freedom — they have settled down to playing house."

Many eastern colleges are "settling down" with raised or lowered egos after the recent rankings of colleges and universities in the Chicago Tribune. Some schools were not happy over the results. Witness the Williams newspaper in which we find not a single word on the survey (Williams ranked 10th.) The paper of completely unranked Dartmouth pointed out that only two of the 33 authorities consulted were from schools not included in the lists. Princeton, listed as sixth best university weakly rationalized, "it isn't every day that a small college is rated sixth-best university in the country."

Members of Tau Kappa Epsilon at the University of Wisconsin began a water fight last week which developed into a riot involving 2,000 students. Main victim was the Wisconsin dean of men who was repeatedly drenched.

Choir To Make New Record Monday

The Hamilton Choir will begin recording its new 12 inch L. P. record on Monday, May 20, Director John Baldwin said yesterday.

Recording technicians from the Recorded Publications Division of the RCA Victor Company will arrive early Monday and set up equipment in the Chapel. They will remain as long as is necessary to make the tapes.

The record will be in the form of a typical Choir concert, Baldwin said.

The album, with cover designed by Jeremy Walsh, will be ready sometime next fall, Baldwin said.

The choir has requested the full cooperation of the student body in keeping the area near the Chapel as quiet as possible during the recording period, Baldwin said.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR—

Comments on H-bomb Lecture

Dear Sirs:

I doubt that Dr. William Neuman would be pleased that you have attributed to him a statement of Dr. Linus Pauling to which Dr. Neuman explicitly refused to commit himself during the question period following his talk on "Problems of Strontium Ninety Fallout."

When asked if he believed that ten thousand people would be doomed to eventual death from leukemia and related diseases because of the British H-bomb test this summer, Dr. Neuman said he did not know that it was NOT so and neither did anyone else.

There is some recent evidence, he said, in support of this view. This evidence indicates that there may be no such thing as a level of radiation below which damage will not occur.

You then proceed to report what Dr. Neuman said about permissible radiation levels as though he believed in them, too.

The press often attributes the confusion over fallout hazards to a fallout among the experts. When one considers that Dr. Neuman spoke good, plain English, it is possible to imagine that the main trouble lies elsewhere.

Sincerely,
Kent E. Erickson

Student Requests Discretion

To the Editor:

The Spectator showed poor taste in last Friday's issue by printing the names of four people who were criticized at a Student Senate meeting by a representative to the Senate. Four people should suffer some embarrassment at their appearance.

Since the purpose of the paper is not to expose or embarrass members of the student body, it would have been more discreet to omit the names of the people discussed.

The paper does not include articles about honor court violators, or students put on social probation. It was poor policy to include this statement.

Don Seyba also showed very little discretion. He is welcome to his opinion, but he could have expressed it without publicly embarrassing four members of his committee.

What he did was to deem worthless ALL the returning members. The only names he omitted were the seniors', who were not subject to reappointment.

Perhaps some of the fault lies with the chairman when he is dissatisfied with so many members of his committee.

Howard Rosen

The Honor System Constitution leaves the choice of a public or private trial to the accused, and social probation is a private action between the Administration and the individual student. Senate meetings are open to the public. — Ed.

SAC Distributes Survey Requests To Hill Students

The Student Admissions Committee will distribute qquestionaires next week requesting Hamilton students to visit their home high schools this summer and obtain names of next year's seniors who might be interested in attending Hamilton.

Hack Rhett, chairman of the Student Admissions Committee is directing the survey with the assistance of past chairman, Al Shaler.

Names of the seniors will be sent to the College and descriptive material will be forwarded to the prospective sub-freshmen.

Apply for Grants

All students who wish to apply for scholastic aid for next year must file applications in the Admissions Office no later than June 10. Application forms are available in the Admissions Office.

SEASON RECORD, 3-5 —

Hill Nine Wins 1, Loses 2

The Continental baseball team won one game and lost two during the past week to bring its season record to three wins and five losses. Hamilton triumphed over Ithaca College and bowed to Hobart and Union.

Bursting through with four runs in the bottom of the third, the Union College Dutchmen went on to trip up the Hamilton College Continentals, 5 - 3, yesterday at Union.

John Fauth went all the way for the win. Hill freshman, Bob Kliphon also went the distance. He is now 2 - 2.

Kliphon ran into control trouble in the early innings as he walked six and hit one batsman in the first three stanzas. Three walks, a hit batsman and two Union hits gave the Dutchmen an early 4 - 0 lead in the third inning. All the runs came in with two outs. Union scored again in the fourth when Frank Ward singled home Dick Steinbrenner.

For the first six innings, only Hamilton's Eric Hasseltine was able to solve Fauth's right-handed slants. Hasseltine banged out two base hits to center for the only Hill hits during this time. Hasseltine ended up with four hits including a booming triple.

Hamilton picked up its first marker in the seventh when Slattery singled home Don DiGuilian. The Continentals added another in the eighth on three consecutive singles by Scott Finegan, Bruce Porter, and Al Olson. In the ninth, Hamilton rallied once more with Hasseltine tripling and Joe Nicolette singling him home but Fauth bore down and retired the side, to ice the win.

Hamilton Downs Utica

On Monday Hamilton pushed across two runs in the first inning and made them count for a 2 - 0 win over Utica College. Three hits, a walk and an error accounted for the runs.

With two outs in the first, Nicolette lined one of Utica hurler Jerry Lockwood's offerings for a double. Finegan singled and took second on an error by the shortstop. Nicolette scored on the play.

Lambert walked and Olson singled to score Finegan. Colapietro hit to the second baseman to end the inning.

Hamilton was unable to get anyone on base again until the fifth, when diGiulian walked. He was erased at second on a fielder's choice.

Ben Werner went the distance to pick up his first win of the season against two losses. He scattered three singles while walking six and striking out four.

Lockwood, the Utica hurler, struck out six and issued five passes. He gave up only four hits but three of them, including Nicolette's double, came in the first inning.

Utica left men stranded in every inning except the sixth. In the seventh and the ninth innings they left two men. But Werner worked himself out of the trouble spots by strik-

Hobart Triumphs

Last Friday the Continentals got off on the wrong foot when Hobart pushed across four runs in a rough first inning to take a lead that was never relinquished.

VerSteeg was safe on Colapietro's error with one down. Miller flied to Purple in right, but Weber, the Statesman clean-up batter, hit a drive to deep right center, good for four bases.

Watson and Hadley each singled and scored when Purple missed Harrison's fly ball to right. Jones, the starting Hamilton hurler, got T. Watson on strikes to choke off any further scoring.

In the fifth the Statesmen put together three singles and a walk for two more runs. VerSteeg singled to open the inning, and Miller popped out, attempting to bunt. Weber singled and took second on an error by Hasseltine. Watson walked, and Hadley singled to score two runs.

Bob Kliphon replaced Jones and got out of the inning without further damage.

Hobart scored an insurance run in the sixth by combining an error by Slattery, an infield out, and a single by Miller. In the last three innings Kliphon retired the Hobart hitters in order except for Goldstein's two-out single in the eighth.

Five Runs Insufficient

The Continentals scored three times in the fourth and twice in the fifth in a vain atempt to catch up. In the

A. D. Phi Places In 3 Intramural Sports Contests

Final results in the intramural playoffs in badminton, squash and ping-pong announced recently showed Alpha Delta Phi as the only house to place in all three tournaments. Chi Psi placed in two.

Alpha Delt won first place in the squash tournament and took second place in both ping-pong and badmiton. With these victories Alpha Delt added five and one-half points to its intramural total.

Chi Psi took second place in the squash tournament for one and one-half points, with Delta Phi and Teke each adding one-half point as they tied for third in the playoffs.

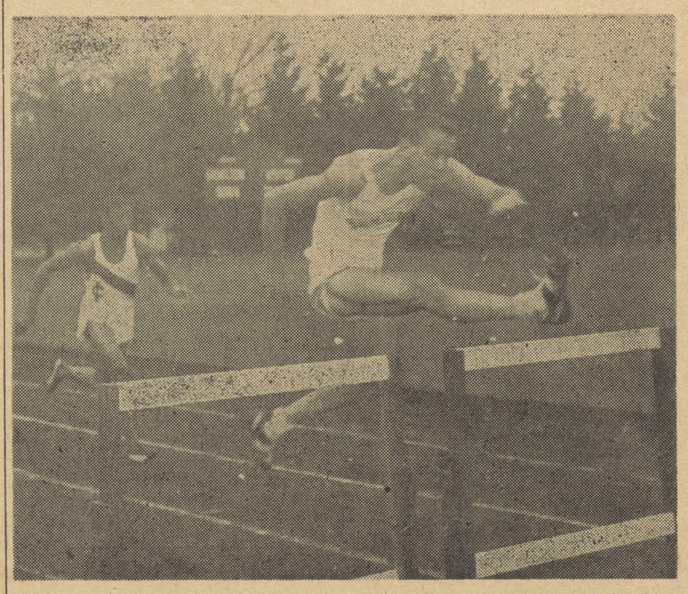
Chi Psi took first place in the ping-pong tournament by taking the doubles and second singles from Alpha Delt. The victory added two and one-half points to Chi Phi's total in the intramural standings.

Delta Upsilon defaulted in the final ping-pong playoffs of the three-way tie and added one-half point to its total.

In badminton, Deke took first place and added two and one-half points to its standing in the league. Alpha Delt finished in second place.

Lambda Chi Alpha and the Independents tied for third place. Each added one-half point to their totals.

Cindermen To Travel to State Meet after Swamping Ithaca



Hamilton track captain Pete Eld wins the 220-yard high hurdles in Saturday's meet. Ithaca College's Jackson, left, placed second.

The Hamilton track team swamped Ithaca College on Saturday, 101 - 29, taking 12 of the 15 first places and sweeping the 220, 880, mile, 2-mile, high jump, and broad jump events.

The constant drizzle which fell throughout the met held the team to only average times. In this one-sided contest many placed in more than one event, including Bruce Bartlett, Baldy Moore, Mal McClinchie, and Bob Wilkins. Captain Pete Eld and Hal Bruck both placed in three events.

Tomorrow the team travels to Rochester, where the New York State Meet is being held at the University of Rochester. According to Coach Gene Long the favorites are Union and Alfred, although Hamilton, Rochester, and Cortland State should be good contenders.

Hamilton runners expected to be among the top contenders for places are Bruck, who placed third last year in the 100; Peter Eld, who has a good chance to win both the high and low hurdles; and Doc Jordon, who should push the '56 champion Feltman from RPI. If Parillo of union runs both the 880 and the mile, the 2-mile should be one of the most exciting races of the day.

Otherwise it will be a battle for second place, in which Al Shaler, Bill Poole, and Barclay Ward all have a fine chance. The battle for mile relay will probably lie with Union, Alfred and the Hamilton team of Milt Markrader, Peter Eld, Jordon, and either Bartlett or Glen Hudson.

In the field events, Joe Nuccio and John Stevens should press the defending champion, Quimby of Rochester, who has jumped over 6 ft. 2 in.

Jim White is expected to do well in the broad jump, and Paul McGiffin will try to win the javelin for the fourth year in a row, something no other contender so far has been able to do.

Other Continentals representing the school in the state meet include McClinchie, Wilkins, Bob Patton, Terry Eld, and Dave Ostrom.

Merkel's Goal Beats Cortland State

A fourth period goal by Dave Merkel gave the Continental stickmen a 7 - 6 victory over Cortland State last Saturday. The game, played before a drenched houseparty crowd, saw Hamilton come from behind to win after blowing an early 4 - 1 lead.

The tie-breaking goal was Merkel's second of the afternoon. Teammates Earl Rickerson and Pete Germond also chimed in with two goals each to pace the Continental attack.

Goalie Rocco Pisani and defenseman Harvey Katz looked sharp on defense. Katz also accounted for one of the Blue's scores when he raced the length of the field to score unassisted and tie the contest at five apiece early in the third period.

The Continentals moved out in front 3 - 1 in the first period. At the six minute mark Rickerson scored the first goal of the game assisted by Germond.

A minute later Germond scored the second goal on an assist by Rickerson. After a Cortland goal made the game 2 - 1, Merkel scored in the waning moments of the quarter to give Hamilton a 3 - 1 edge.

Continentals Lose Speed

Germond netted his second goal of the game at the start of the quarter to put the Blue ahead 4 - 1 for what seemed a comfortable lead.

But Cortland's offense began to find the range and three scores later the Continentals left the field at half-time tied four to four in a brand new ball game.

Mike Mosier put Cortland ahead for the first time 5 - 4 in the first minute of play in the second half. The Blue caught fire again as Katz weaved his way through opposing players and scored the fifth Hamilton goal of the afternoon to tie the game once more.

Both teams exchanged goals toward the latter part of the period. Rickerson accounted for the home team's score on a pass from Pete Strawbridge for his second tally of the day.

The game remained deadlocked until midway through the fourth period, when Merkel scored again to put the Hillmen ahead 7 - 6. The Blue, with the aid of time, made Merkels score stand up for the remainder of the game.

Just as the game-ending whistle blew, a Cortland shot rocketed into the nets. Had the score come a moment sooner it would have tied the game.

The Blue were in control most of the game, as evidenced by the twenty-one saves Cortland goalie Jim Bromante made as opposed to nine for Pisani. Twenty-four penalties by Cortland and sloppy weather conditions aided the home team. The Continentals were no angels themselves, committing 16 misdemeanors.

The Blue travels to Cortland on May 25 for a return match.

Tomorrow the Blue will have their work cut out for them when they entertain a strong Hobart squad. Earlier in the season the Garnet beat Cortland 14 - 11. Game time is 2:30.

Golfers Seek Win After Double Loss

Seeking a win after a week which saw them lose twice, the Hill golf team will be out to beat the Orangemen from Syracuse in a match on the College links tomorrow at 2 p.m.

The feature of tomorrow's event and perhaps of the whole golf season will be the match between the Orange's Warren Simmons and Ward Wettlaufer. Simmons, who qualified for the National Open last year, recently won the Eastern Intercollegiate Golf Championship at the Naval Academy Course, Annapolis, Md.

Wettlaufer, who has been under par in all his intercollegiate matches this year, is the Tam O'Shanter Amateur Champion.

Last Wednesday Rochester made Hamilton their ninth straight victim of the year as they continued their unbeaten ways, winning 5 - 4 on their home course. Wettlaufer won his match and was medalist of the day with a one-under-par 70. The only other Hamilton golfer to win his individual match was Bill MacFarland who won 3 and 2.

Last Saturday Hamilton lost to a powerful RPI team, 5½ - 3½ in a match played in pouring Clinton rain.

Wettlaufer won his match 7 and 6 and was the day's medalist with a 68. Bill MacFarland beat RPI's number four man in their match for Hamilton's only other individual win.

STUPID . . . PLEASANT . . . SAD —

Groans, Glee Greet Gaboon

The Spectator polled the faculty on their reactions to the new "Royal Gaboon" immediately after its publication this weekend. Unfortunately, only a few faculty members returned the questionnaires.

Some of the comments made by certain faculty members are as follows: "Hamilton deserves better. The thing seemed to me to be at the high school level. Total lack of mature and sophisticated humor."

"Gaboon is a pleasant surprise — much better than I expected it to be. Congratulations."

"This is a perfect example of inferior, often stupid, attempts at humor. It was boring, in poor taste, and without a single humorous statement from cover to cover.

"It can best be improved by a completely new set of contributors who know what satire is, (your writers do not); who do not confuse sex for humor (there are good jokes with sex in them, but not in this issue); and who have a sense of humor, which your contributors lack.

"All in all, a pretty sad commentary on the abilities of Hamilton students."

Most of the faculty who returned the questionnaire felt that there is a place at Hamilton for a humor magazine. However, most felt that it should not yet be added to the publications of the Publications Board.

The Gaboon staff conducted a spot survey of student opinion in Chapel Tuesday. A hundred questionnaires were distributed, 83 students returned filled out sheets.

Of the 83, 62 were in favor of continuing the publication, 21 were opposed. Only a few students were interested in contributing to the magazine.

Student comments were varied. Many wanted more "dirty" jokes. many wanted fewer "dirty" jokes. Some wanted more sophisticated humor, others requested less. A comment made by several students was that the contents were not original enough.

Some of the student comments are as follows: "We are not amused." "Needs more preparation." "Better than Continental." "It didn't live up to its potential." "Get rid of the talented high school students you have writing for it." "Very good magazine." "Very good for a first try."

fourth, Purple, diGiulian and Olson hit successive singles. Purple then scored on Colapietro's sacrifice fly to center.

Harrison's throw from center hit Purple's foot, permitting diGiulian to score on the same play and Olson to take third. Jones then dumped a bunt to squeeze in Olson for the third run.

Nicolette opened the fifth with a single to center. Finegan fouled out to the third baseman, then Purple singled to left.

DiGiulian was safe on an error with Nicolette scoring on the play. Olson walked and Colapietro's single scored another run. Then Kliphon popped up on the attempted squeeze and diGiulian was out at the plate, the double play ending the inning.

The Blue left men on in each of the last three innings, but they were unable to pose a serious threat.

Allison, in picking up the win, struck out only one and walked five. Jones, in losing, struck out none and walked only two in four and one-third innings. Kliphon worked the remaining four and two-thirds innings, gave up no walks and struck out none.

Publications Board Approves 'Royal Gaboon' after Successful First Issue

The Publications Board gave the Royal Gaboon a vote of approval Monday when it decided to include the humor magazine among the official publications of the college.

The success of the first issue of the Gaboon encouraged the board to take its affirmative action, Seyba said. He pointed out that official approval is only on a temporary year-to-year basis.

The first issue of the new Gaboon was published as an independent student endeavorw ith neither the support nor the approval of the Publications Board. Junior David Burner as editor headed the group of students who revived the humor magazine. Burner will continue as editor of the Gaboon next year.

Seyba said the magazine will probably be published twice next year. He indicated that the official approval would free the editors from the menial tasks connected with the publication of such a magazine and added his hope that next year's editions will justify the stand taken by the board in sanctioning a humor magazine.

How can the graduate make up his mind wisely about his vital decision?
We're not going to try to tell you. And we're going to resist the temptation to point out the many advantages of working for IBM—much as our company, like every other, needs top-notch engineering and scientific talent.
